Urine Screen Analysis Consent Form

All patients receiving medication management from Winchester Community Mental Health Center, Inc, ages 11 and above will be urine screened. There are no scientific tests to prove the presence of a psychiatric disorder. Instead, a diagnosis of a mental illness is based purely on professional expertise and the evaluation of symptoms, often following a 45-50-minute interview and without obtaining medical history from corroborating sources.

Urine Screen Analysis plays a valuable role in psychiatric treatment for the following reasons:

- 1. To complete a psychiatric assessment Urine Analysis results can help psychiatrists conduct a more thorough and accurate assessment and pave the way to an effective treatment plan.
- 2. To monitor substance abuse Additionally, some practitioners use Urine Analysis as a means to monitor ongoing issues with addiction. Doctors sometimes order urine screens to make sure that you are following medical advice.
- 3. To diagnose possible co-existing disorders Substance abuse and psychiatric disorders often co-exist and determining the appropriate course of action is essential for successful treatment.

A psychiatric assessment that does not reflect results from a urine screen can lead to complications that patients and psychiatrists both want to avoid. Some of the risks of hiding drug use from a psychiatrist or psychiatric medication prescriber can include:

- 1. Misdiagnosis For one, without factoring in evidence of drug use, a psychiatrist may misdiagnose a mental illness based on witnessing side effects from illegal drugs.
- 2. Exposure to psychiatric medications can have serious side effects. More concerning, misdiagnosis can lead to treatment for a nonexistent mental illness and expose a person to psychiatric medications with a known list of side effects that may cause mania, psychosis, depression, heart attack, stroke, and in extreme cases where a pre-existing heart condition may be present, even sudden death. In fact, some medications are just as powerful or addictive as illegal drugs like heroin, crack cocaine or methamphetamine.
- 3. Medical complications Furthermore, patients using illegal drugs in combination with psychiatric drugs could experience additional, unforeseen side effects that misinform their diagnosis if all the contributing factors remain unknown.

LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY (WEST VIRGINIA)

Federal and State of West Virginia Laws and Regulations protect the confidentiality of client records maintained by this facility. Generally, the facility may not say that a client attends the facility or disclose any information identifying a client unless:

- 1. Risk of self-harm: During your session, if you present a threat level, words, or behavior that convince your therapist that you are likely to harm yourself, either deliberately or because you are unable to keep yourself safe, your therapist must do whatever he or she can to prevent you from being harmed
- 2. Risk of harm to others: During your session, if you present a threat level toward another person, words, or behavior that convince your therapist that you are likely to harm another person, your therapist must try to protect that person. He or she would report your threat to the police, warn the threatened person, and try to prevent you from carrying out your threat. Federal and State of West Virginia Laws and Regulations do not protect any information about a crime committed or intent to commit a crime by a patient either to themselves or others.
- 3. If your therapist obtains information leading him/her to believe or suspect abuse of a child, senior citizen, or disabled person, the therapist must report this to a state agency. To "abuse" means to neglect, hurt, or sexually molest another person. The therapist cannot investigate and decide whether abuse is taking place if the suspicion is there, the therapist must report it. Federal and State of West Virginia Laws and Regulations do not protect any information about suspected abuse and neglect from being reported.
- 4. Children and adolescents: It is the policy of this agency, when a therapist treats children and adolescents, to ask their parents or guardians to agree that most details of what their children or adolescents tell the therapist will be treated as confidential. However, parents or guardians do have the right to general information about how therapy is going. The therapist may also have to tell parents/guardians about information if their children or others are in any danger.
- 5. Couples: If one member of a couple tells a therapist something the other member does not know, and not knowing this could harm him or her, the therapist cannot promise to keep it confidential from the other person. If this occurs, the therapist will discuss it with you before doing anything else.
- 6. In group therapy: The other members of the group are not therapists. They are not bound by the ethical rules and laws governing therapists. To avoid problems in this area, it is this agency's policy to ask all members of therapy groups to agree to protect one another's confidentiality, and to remove from the group any member who does violate another member's confidentiality. Still, this agency cannot be responsible for such disclosures by other clients, and it may be better for you to discuss information you feel must be legally protected in an individual session with your therapist than in a therapy group session.
- 7. This agency will not record therapy sessions on audiotape or videotape without your written permission.
- 8. If a judge court orders your therapist to provide information about your history or your treatment, the therapist must do so as required by federal laws and/or regulations.
- 9. This disclosure is made to medical personnel in a medical emergency.
- 10. Your therapy and/or medication management clinician may consult with other Winchester Community Mental Health, Inc. therapy and/or medication management clinicians and/or supervisors to provide the best possible care. These consultations are for professional and training purposes only.

Violation of Federal and State of West Virginia Laws and Regulations by a facility is a crime. Suspected violations may be reported to appropriate authorities in accordance with Federal and State of West Virginia regulations.

Tele-Therapy and Tele-Medication Limits of Confidentiality

What is Teletherapy or Telehealth/Tele-Medication?

Teletherapy, Telehealth/Tele-Medication, involves the use of electronic communications to enable physicians and other healthcare professionals, including mental healthcare professionals, to improve the access to quality and appropriate care. Teletherapy includes the practice of health-care delivery, evaluation diagnosis, consultation, treatment, transfer of medical data, and education using interactive audio, video, or data communications. Treatment Providers may include, but are not limited to, psychiatrists, psychologists, nurses, counselors, clinical social workers, and marriage and family therapists.

Teletherapy services are also available for face-to-face clients on an as needed basis if deemed to be necessary and appropriate for treatment. At this time teletherapy services are only being offered via videoconferencing and the telephone.

Risks and Benefits

In addition to the risks and benefits outlined in the Informed Consent, Teletherapy has its own unique risks and benefits. Benefits include improved access to care for clients who are homebound, lack reliable transportation, or do not have providers near them. Teletherapy can be beneficial for those who are more comfortable communicating online rather than face to face. Teletherapy often offers more flexibility with scheduling. Risks include but aren't limited to unexpected technological failures during sessions; increased risks to privacy which creates an additional burden on the client to ensure that sessions are private and undisrupted; hacking. An important risk to consider is the lack of nonverbal communication (body signals) that are readily available to both therapist and client in face-to-face sessions. Without this information, teletherapy may be slower to progress or be less effective altogether.

Client Records

All records are kept in written, hard copy form and stored at Winchester Community Mental Health Center located in Winchester, VA or Inwood, WV. All records are stored for seven (7) years. Clients and Parents/Legal Guardians of Minor Clients have the right to request a copy of the record or a brief summary. All records request must be submitted in writing and are subject to a fee.

Verification of Client Identity

At the initial session the client will be required to provide proof of identity.

Technological Failures

Should a video or telephone session experience a disruption/technological failure the therapist will re-establish the connection (place a new video or telephone call) unless other arrangements between client and therapist are agreed upon. If videoconferencing is temporarily unavailable the session will resume via telephone (in accordance with the client's consent for communication form.) If after 15 minutes connection can't be re-established, or the session resumed on the phone then the session will be rescheduled. If the technological failure occurs on the therapist's end the client will not be charged for the appointment; if the failure occurs on the client's end, they are still subject to the full session fee (pro-rated session rates not available).

Emergencies

Emergency procedures laid out in the Informed Consent form apply. Given that therapy is not being conducted face to face, I do require all teletherapy clients have an emergency contact on file (additional release will be provided).

Tele-Therapy and Tele-Medication Limits of Confidentiality

Best Practices

To create an environment that is as close to a face-to-face experience as possible the following guidelines are strongly recommended:

A. Ensure that your location is private and secure. Try to conduct your session in a room that allows you to separate yourself from distractions and any non-participants in the home who might overhear. Make arrangements for childcare if possible.

- B. If the session is being conducted through video chat:
 - a. Make sure there is enough lighting. Dark and solid colored clothing works best and lowers risk of interference with video image. Avoid large pieces of jewelry that reflect light. Take off hats and sunglasses that limit the view of your face.
 - b. Only use a Wi-Fi network that is secure via password protection, no public Wi-Fi
 - c. Position yourself and camera so that you are visible from at least the waist up. If there are multiple participants make sure everyone is in view.

I understand that teletherapy services and care may not be as complete as face-to-face services. I also understand that if my therapist believes I would be better served by another form of psychotherapeutic and/or medication management services (e.g. face-to-face services) I will be referred for face-to-face sessions.

I understand that there are potential risks and benefits associated with any form of medication management and/or psychotherapy, and that despite my efforts and the efforts of my medical provider and/or therapist, my condition may not improve, and in some cases may even get worse.

I understand that in the event of an adverse reaction to the treatment, or in the event of an inability to communicate as a result of a technological or equipment failure, I shall seek follow-up care or assistance at the recommendation of my medical provider and/or therapist.

I understand that the laws that protect privacy and the confidentiality of medical information also apply to teletherapy.

I understand that the information disclosed by me during my treatment is generally confidential. However, there are both mandatory and permissive exceptions to confidentiality as outlined in the main informed consent form.

I also understand that the dissemination of any personally identifiable images or information from the teletherapy interaction to researchers or other entities shall not occur without my consent.

I understand that I have the right to withhold or withdraw my consent to the use of teletherapy and/or Tele-Medication during my care at any time, without affecting my right to future care or treatment.

INFORMED CONSENT TO TELEHEALTH

Telehealth allows my medication management and therapist to diagnose, consult, treat and educate using interactive audio, video or data communication regarding my treatment. I hereby consent to participating in medication management and/or psychotherapy via telephone or the videoconferencing (hereinafter referred to as Telehealth).

I understand I have the following rights under this agreement:

I have a right to confidentiality with Telehealth under the same laws that protect the confidentiality of my medical information for in-person medication management and/ or psychotherapy. Any information disclosed by me during my session, therefore, is generally confidential. There are, by law, exceptions to confidentiality, including mandatory reporting of child, elder, and dependent adult abuse and any threats of violence I may make towards a reasonably identifiable person.

I also understand that if I am a danger to myself or others, my healthcare provider has the right to break confidentiality to prevent the threatened danger.

Further, I understand that the dissemination of any personal and/or identifiable images or information from the Telehealth interaction shall not occur without my written consent.

I understand that while medication management and/or psychotherapeutic treatment of all kinds has been found to be effective in treating a wide range of mental disorders, personal and relational issues, there is no guarantee that treatment will be effective. Thus, I understand that while I may benefit from Telehealth, results cannot be guaranteed or assured.

I further understand that there are risks unique and specific to Telehealth, including but not limited to, the possibility that our telehealth sessions could be interrupted by technical failures.

In addition, I understand that Telehealth treatment is different from in-person therapy and that if my therapist believes I would be better served by another form of psychotherapeutic services, such as in-person treatment, I will be referred to a healthcare provider in my geographic area that can provide such services. I have read and understand the information provided above.

I have the right to discuss any of this information with my healthcare provider and to have questions regarding my treatment answered to my satisfaction.

I understand that I can withdraw my consent to Telehealth communications at any time by providing written notification to WCMHC.

My signature below indicates that I have read this Agreement and agree to its terms.
